

If implemented, 60 meters should be limited to digital modes, including cw, and there should be power limits established. To allow 60 meters to be be inhabited by high power, broad band signals would defeat the purposes intended, in my opinion.